Company Update

We understand that our strengths are our abilities to listen to our clients' needs and to provide solutions that give true returns on investment (think about how much HR heartache is avoided when background screenings are done).

So we decided to add a new section to our newsletter. A sort of op-ed, where we will pose a question for you to weigh in on. We know that your "2 cents" adds to the value of what we offer, so go ahead - contribute your ideas!

My 2 Cents

We launched our Val-ID-ate tool that lets professionals show proof of their qualifications (education, employment, certifications, etc.).

We are forming alliances with companies that provide job seeker services (job boards, online résumé services, etc.) to offer Val-ID-ate to their users.

Where else should Val-ID-ate be offered? Give

Life of Your Business show on TCB360 radio with

Questions & Answers

Q. Why do you need the "name while attending / employed" when doing a credentials search?

A. Simply because people often change their names. The most common examples are women who change their names as a result of marriage (or divorce). Although uncommon, we have seen quite a few instances where men have also changed their names. Names are the primary identifiers used to complete searches, so it is important that we are provided with the search subject's FULL name while they attended an institution or were employed at a location. Searches cannot be completed without this vital piece of information.

So while it may seem silly, please ask women and men to give the full names used while they attended school or were employed. We really appreciate it!
