Company Update

Verify-ED Has A New Service!

You have all been integral in the development of our new service and

WE THANK YOU!

This service lets Job Seekers and Professional Services Providers to verify their own credentials.

They can then present read-only views to prospective employers and potential clients.

It looks like this:

name!

The service is tentatively named "Verify-crED". One Verify-ED partner thinks that the name is self explanatory (Verify Credentials. . .get it?) and one partner thinks that it sounds like "crud".

We want to hear your suggestions!

Help us name this new service. Submit your name ideas and slogan suggestions by May 31, 2008. We will pick our favorites and then put them out to everyone for a vote. Our goals are to obviously name our great service, but it is to also inform the world about it.

So, please forward this to your friends who need a break from the doldrums of a job search or a service provider who wants to add more depth to their marketing- because we want to hear what people who don't know us have to say!

We can't wait to see your suggestions!

Alliances & Partnership

Through partnerships, Verify-ED is able to offer more comprehensive services. Our partnership with TeamScreen Solutions keeps our operations going. TeamScreen gives us access to a network of court researchers and they also work directly with Equifax to provide us with credit reporting services. TeamScreen is based in Overland Park, Kansas.

Background Screening News

Stricter Screenings For Teachers

Schools may soon have to carry out stringent background checks on teachers applying for jobs to keep people with a history of rape and violence out of the classroom.

Questions & Answers

Q: What exactly is a Nationwide Criminal Database? I heard that it is not a trustworthy source.

A: A Nationwide Criminal Database is a repository of criminal records from various courts. These databases are good resources for providing an encompassing view of whether a search subject has a criminal history. Since it is a database, it requires maintenance and sometimes the record updates are not timely. In order to receive the most current information, searches must be done within the court. So, some prefer to do county criminal record searches, but you would have to assume that the search subject would have only committed crimes within the county you are searching. We recommend conducting Nationwide Criminal Database searches in conjunction with county criminal searches.
